About Temple Chambers

Temple Chambers is one of the leading barristers' chambers in Hong Kong. It has over 50 members who advise and act in respect of a broad range of litigation, arbitration and non-contentious matters. Members of Temple Chambers have been involved in numerous landmark cases over the years. As well as participating in litigation and arbitration as counsel, members of Chambers also regularly act as Recorders or Deputy Judges in the Courts, as chairmen or members of statutory and other tribunals and as arbitrators.

Former members of Temple Chambers include the current Chief Justice (Mr. Justice Ma), two other Permanent Judges of the Court of Final Appeal (Ribeiro PJ and Fok PJ), the current Secretary for Justice (Rimsky Yuen SC) and a number of other judges in the Court of Appeal and CFI.

About the speakers

The speakers are members of the Pupillage Committee in Temple Chambers and are heavily involved in the recruitment of talents and administration of the Temple Chambers (Oxford) Scholarship.
