In Quest of Truth and Justice: Student Conference with Attorneys

Saturday, 6 April 2013

Theatre 5, 1/F Meng Wah Complex, The University of Hong Kong

Both truth and justice are core values that law as well religion strive to achieve. However, in daily legal practices, is there any gap between serving the clients and acquiring truth and justice? If yes, is there any way to bridge this gap and could faith inform such way? In this conference, students will be able to interact with experienced attorneys from different legal systems and religious traditions, learn from them the wisdom in practicing truth and justice with faith in a pluralistic society.

The conference is co-organized by the Faith and Global Engagement Initiative, HKU; the Centre for Comparative and Public Law, Faculty of Law, HKU; and the Centre for Christian Faith and Public Values, Chinese Graduate School of Theology. The symposium is also a part of the Transforming the World through Faith and Law, an international assembly of legal professionals, to be held on 4 - 8 April 2013 in Hong Kong co-organized by the Faith and Law Around the Globe, (FLAG) an initiative of Campus Crusade for Christ, Advocates International, and the Faith and Global Engagement Initiative at HKU.
