SUBJECT TO UNIVERSITY’S APPROVAL

REGULATIONS FOR THE DUAL DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF LAWS (LLB) AT THE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG (HKU) AND BACHELOR OF LAWS (LLB) AT UNIVERSITY COLLEGE LONDON (UCL)

These regulations apply to students admitted to the dual degree HKU LLB and UCL LLB curriculum under the 4-Year ‘2012 curriculum’ in the academic year 2017-18 and thereafter.

(See also General Regulations and Regulations for First Degree Curricula for candidates admitted under the 4-Year ‘2012 curricula’)

Admission to the degree of Bachelor of Laws

DLL1. To be eligible for admission to the degree of Bachelor of Laws, candidates shall

(a) comply with the General Regulations;
(b) comply with the Regulations for First Degree Curricula;
(c) satisfy all the requirements of the LLB curriculum in the first two years of study at UCL;
and
(d) satisfy all the requirements of the curriculum in accordance with these Regulations and syllabus.

Period of study

DLL2. The curriculum for the dual degree of Bachelor of Laws at HKU and of Bachelor of Laws at UCL shall normally require eight semesters of full-time study, extending over not fewer than four academic years, including the summer semesters, and shall include any assessment to be held during and/or at the end of each semester. Students in the dual degree programme spend the first two years at UCL and a further two years at HKU. After completing all four years of study, successful candidates will be awarded the HKU LLB and UCL LLB degrees. Candidates shall not in any case be permitted to extend their studies beyond the maximum period of registration of six academic years, comprising a maximum period of three academic years of studies each at UCL and at HKU, except with the approval of the Board of the Faculty of Law.

Completion of the curriculum

DLL3. To complete the curriculum a candidate shall

(a) comply with the General Regulations;
(b) satisfy the requirements prescribed in UG5 of the Regulations for First Degree Curricula;
(c) follow instruction and attend classes as required, and complete all coursework requirements;
(d) satisfy the requirement of the curriculum for the first two years of study of LLB at UCL, equivalent to 132 credits in value; and
(e) pass in courses totalling at least 168 credits in value in the last two years of study, including the compulsory mooting requirement in the manner specified as follows:

- 6 credits in Chinese language enhancement\(^1\) in accordance with UG5(b);
- 24 credits of Common Core\(^2\) courses in accordance with UG(5)(c);
- 84 credits of Professional Core including 48 credits of compulsory courses\(^3\), 6 credits in compulsory mooting\(^4\) and 30 credits in disciplinary courses\(^5\);
- 12 credits in a dissertation;
- 12 credits in HKU Legal Internship; and
- 30 credits of Free electives\(^6\)

Transfer of credits

DLL4. Candidates shall be permitted to transfer credits for courses completed successfully in the first two years of studies at UCL or at other institutions at any time during their candidatures. The number of transferred credits may be recorded in the transcript of the candidate, but the results of courses completed at UCL or other institutions shall not be included in the calculation of the GPA. The number of credits to be transferred shall not exceed half of the total credits normally required under the degree curricula of the candidates during their candidature at the University and a minimum of four semesters of study at this University shall be required before a candidate is considered for the award of this dual degree.

Selection of courses

DLL5. Candidates shall select their courses in accordance with these regulations and the guidelines specified in the syllabus before the beginning of each semester. Changes to the

1. (a) Putonghua speaking students who should take CUND9002 (Practical Chinese and Hong Kong Society) or CUND9003 (Cantonese for Non-Cantonese Speaking Students); and
   (b) students who have not studied Chinese language during their secondary education or who have not attained the requisite level of competence in the Chinese language to take the Chinese language enhancement course should write to the Board of the Faculty to apply for exemption from the Chinese language requirement, and
   (i) take a 6-credit Cantonese or Putonghua language course offered by the School of Chinese especially for international and exchange students; OR
   (ii) take an elective course in lieu.

2. Candidates shall complete successfully 4 Common Core courses comprising one Common Core course from each Area of Inquiry with not more than one course from the same Area of Inquiry being selected within one academic year except where candidates are required to make up failed credits.

3. A pass in both LLAW1013 Legal research and writing I and LLAW2017 Legal research and writing II shall be deemed to satisfy the “English in the Discipline” requirement under UG5(a) of the Regulations for First Degree Curricula.

4. This may be substituted by participation in Jessup mooting or any other international moot competition approved by the Head of the Department of Law. The course “Mooting and dispute resolution” which fulfils the requirement of DLL3 shall be graded with pass/fail and shall not be counted in the calculation of the GPA.

5. Law courses

6. Free electives are courses offered by any Faculty of the University, including Law Faculty.
selection of courses may be made only during the add/drop period of the semester in which the course begins, and such changes shall not be reflected in the transcript of the candidate. Requests for changes after the designated add/drop period of the semester shall not normally be considered.

DLL6. Withdrawal from courses beyond the designated add/drop period will not be permitted, except for medical reasons and with the approval of the Board of the Faculty of Law. Withdrawal without permission will result in a fail grade in the relevant course(s).

Specialisation

DLL7. Candidates who have obtained at least 36 credits of law electives listed under one of the specialisations in the syllabus will be duly recognised by having that specialisation stated in the official academic transcript.

DLL8. Candidates shall declare their choice of specialisation, if any, in the beginning of the third academic year. A declaration made beyond the first semester of the fourth academic year will not be considered.

Progression in curriculum

DLL9.

(a) Candidates shall take the required number of credits in each semester, as stipulated in the degree syllabus, but shall not take more than 84 credits in each academic year of the last two years of study at this University.

(b) Where candidates are required to make up for failed credits during the last two years of study at this University, the total number of credits taken should not exceed the maximum curriculum study load of 252 credits for the maximum period of registration specified in DLL2, unless it is done with the approval of the Senate.

Grades

DLL10. Grades shall be awarded in accordance with UG8 of the Regulations for First Degree curricula. Any course for which a candidate is given an F grade shall be recorded on the official academic transcript, and shall be taken into account in the calculation of the GPA. A pass in the course Mooting shall be recorded on the transcript but shall not be counted towards the GPA.

Passing a course

DLL11. Candidates shall pass a course if the Board of Examiners is satisfied by the candidates’ performance in the assessment.
Assessment

DLL12.

(a) Candidates shall be assessed for each of the courses for which they have registered, and assessment may be conducted in any combination of continuous assessment of coursework, written examinations and/or any other assessable activities. Only passed courses will earn credits.

(b) Candidates suspended under Statute XXXI shall not be allowed to take, present themselves for, and participate in any assessments during the period of suspension, unless otherwise permitted by the Senate.

(c) Candidates are required to make up for failed courses in the following manner as prescribed in the curriculum regulations:

(i) undergoing re-assessment/re-examination in the failed course to be held no later than the end of the following semester (not including the summer semester); or

(ii) re-submitting failed coursework, without having to repeat the same course of instruction; or

(iii) repeating the failed course by undergoing instruction and satisfying the assessments; or

(iv) for elective courses, taking another course in lieu and satisfying the assessment requirements.

(d) Where candidates are permitted or required to present themselves for re-assessment/re-examination/assessment in an alternative course under (c) above, the new grade obtained together with the previous F grade shall be recorded on the transcript and be included in the calculation of the GPA.

(e) A candidate shall not be permitted to repeat a course for which he or she has received a pass grade for the purpose of upgrading.

(f) There shall be no appeal against the results of examinations and all other forms of assessment.

Absence from an examination

DLL13. Candidates who are unable, because of illness, to be present at the written examination of any course may apply for permission to present themselves at a supplementary examination of the same course to be held before the beginning of the First Semester of the following academic year. Any such application shall be made on the form prescribed within two weeks of the first day of the candidate’s absence from any examination. Any supplementary examination shall be part of that academic year’s examinations, and the provisions made in the regulations for failure at the first attempt shall apply accordingly.

Exit for a single LLB degree

DLL14. Candidates shall be permitted to apply in writing to exit from the dual degree programme and register for either the UCL LLB or the HKU LLB curriculum. Such application shall be made to both UCL and HKU not later than the end of the first year of study of the 4-years dual degree programme. Admission to either the UCL LLB or the HKU LLB curriculum shall be decided solely by the respective Faculty of Law which the candidate wishes to continue studying in.

DLL15. Candidates who are admitted to register for the HKU LLB programme before the end of the first year of study shall be granted advanced standing for the courses completed successfully in the first year of study at UCL, and shall from the next semester on refer to and comply with the Regulations for the Degree of Bachelor of Laws (LLB) applicable to students who are admitted to the LLB in the same admission year.

Discontinuation of study

DLL16. Candidates shall be recommended for discontinuation of their studies if they fail to satisfy the examiners in the examinations in accordance with UG4(e) of the Regulations for First Degree Curricula as follows:

(i) fail to complete successfully 42 or more credits in two consecutive semesters (not including the summer semester) during the course of study at HKU, except where they are not required to take such a number of credits in the two given semesters; or

(ii) fail to achieve an average semester GPA of 1.0 or higher for two consecutive semesters (not including the summer semester); or

(iii) exceed the maximum period of registration specified in DLL2.

Award of Degrees

DLL17.

(a) To be eligible for the award of the degrees of Bachelor of Laws (HKU LLB) and Bachelor of Laws (UCL LLB)\(^7\), candidates shall have successfully completed the curriculum as stipulated under DLL3 and DLL4.

(b) The degree of Bachelor of Laws (HKU LLB) shall be awarded in five divisions in accordance with UG9 of the Regulations for First Degree Curricula:

\(^7\) The degree of Bachelor of Laws (UCL LLB) shall be awarded with honours in accordance with the UCL regulations governing the award of a Bachelor of Laws honours degree.
First Class Honours
Second Class Honours Division One
Second Class Honours Division Two
Third Class Honours
Pass

(c) The classification of honours shall be determined by the Board of Examiners for the degree in accordance with the following Graduation GPA (GGPA) scores, with all courses taken (including failed courses) carrying weightings which are proportionate to their credit values:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class of honours</th>
<th>GGPA range</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First Class Honours</td>
<td>3.60 – 4.30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Second Class Honours Division One</td>
<td>3.00 – 3.59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Division Two</td>
<td>2.40 – 2.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Third Class Honours</td>
<td>1.70 – 2.39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pass</td>
<td>1.00 – 1.69</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(d) Honours classification may not be determined solely on the basis of a candidate’s Graduation GPA and the Board of Examiners for the degree may, at its absolute discretion and with justification, award a higher class of honours to a candidate deemed to have demonstrated meritorious academic achievement but whose Graduation GPA falls below the range stipulated in (c) above of the higher classification by not more than 0.1 Grade Point.

(e) A pass list of successful candidates shall be posted on Faculty notice boards and the student homepage.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

The courses available to students are listed below. Where two courses are described as “I and II” (12 credits), this means that they may either be taught separately in two semesters in the same academic year or be taught as one combined course in one semester, and may either be examined separately or at the same time.

Compulsory courses (in the order listed in the syllabus)

THIRD YEAR AND FOURTH YEAR

LLAW1008 The legal system of the Hong Kong SAR (6 credits)

A major legacy of British colonialism is the common law system; which has been transplanted in almost every British colony. Hong Kong is no exception. Hong Kong inherited the common law system from the British in the heydays of the British Empire, and more than 150 years later, this common law system is preserved upon the resumption of Chinese sovereignty over Hong Kong under the unprecedented experiment of ‘One Country, Two Systems’, which is enshrined in our Basic Law. Why is it so important to preserve the common law system? What are its central features? In what ways is it ‘common’ to the ‘common law heritage’? How is it different from the legal system on the Mainland? How and to what extent do the two legal systems interact?

The aim of the Legal system course is to provide students with an understanding of the HKSAR’s legal system, its common law foundations and its interface with the PRC legal system within the One-Country-Two-Systems framework outlined in Basic Law. We will be looking at the common law process and the role of personnel who help put the law into motion. We will examine the impact and performance of Hong Kong’s legal system through the study of a range of current issues, for e.g., whether the One-Country-Two-Systems experiment has been successful or whether the common law system can indeed function with Chinese characteristics; whether the law is a panacea for all social problems or are there difficult questions which lie beyond the capacities of courts, etc.

A legal system does not exist in isolation. It can only be properly understood in its historical, social, economic and political context. It is therefore important to be able to understand the inter-relationship between different priorities that exist in any modern society. If you go through the newspapers, you will note the large number of controversial issues that constantly draw attention to the fundamental values underpinning our legal system. What do we, as a community, stand for? Does the law reflect those values or is it merely responsive to the circumstances as and when they arise? For instance, it is easy to advocate for equal access to justice, but who should pay for the system? Few would disagree with the primacy of human rights but how do we prioritise different rights when they are seemingly in conflict with other equally important values?

The course seeks to approach questions about the legal system from the broader perspective of the political and social implications of particular legal frameworks. This enables a critical understanding of why the legal system is the way it is, whether it achieves the objectives that society considers important and whether it serves to protect society’s fundamental values. How does it protect these values in a continually changing social order? If a system is to gain the trust of its constituents, it needs to be sturdy and its principles should be strong enough to stand the test of time, yet it should not be so inflexible as to yield injustice. How can a system be designed so as to ensure that the needs and rights of all constituents are provided for, including minorities? How should the law and the legal system strike a balance between conflicting values? These are some of the types of questions we will be considering during the course.

Assessment: 10% tutorial participation, 90% examination
LLAW1009  Law and society (6 credits)

The objective of this course is to introduce students to the historical, comparative and critical study of issues relating to “law and society”. We hope to capture the dynamics between law and society, namely, how law is shaped by social changes, perception and thought, and how society is molded by legal rules and norms. We will discuss broad interdisciplinary perspectives and theoretical, empirical and policy considerations relevant to the study of the relationship between law and society.

In this one semester course, we will consider some topical themes, such as the relationship between law and politics, law and philosophy, law and history, law and culture, law and morality, law and gender, law and family, etc., to illustrate these dynamics. We will be using multi-disciplinary and inter-disciplinary perspectives from anthropology, sociology, political science, history and philosophy. This is a course that is not primarily about law, but about how law-related socio-political and historical issues can be studied by employing these multi-disciplinary perspectives.

Assessment: 10% class participation in seminars, 90% examination

LLAW2001  Constitutional law (6 credits)

Constitutional law is a core component of a legal system. It also constitutes the foundation of a legal system, because it stipulates what are the sources of law in the legal system and how the law is made; it establishes, empowers and constrains the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government; and it regulates the relationship between these organs of government as well as the relationship between the government and the people. From the perspective of the people, constitutional law guarantees and protects their human rights and fundamental freedoms.

In Hong Kong, constitutional law also performs the important function of regulating the relationship between Hong Kong as a Special Administrative Region of the People’s Republic of China (PRC) and the Central Government Authorities of the PRC. Constitutional law in Hong Kong is therefore the legal foundation of ‘One Country, Two Systems’. It is also an area of the law which is often the focus of public and media attention. Constitutional law cases and controversies often appear in the Hong Kong press as frontpage news stories. The outcomes of constitutional litigation sometimes not only change the lives of the parties to the case, but also have wide and deep impact on the Hong Kong community and its public and social policies, or the political relationship between Hong Kong and mainland China.

Constitutional law is closely related to politics, political philosophy and history. In students’ previous legal studies, they have already come across aspects of constitutional history and constitutional theory (e.g. in the Law and Society course), as well as some constitutional controversies in Hong Kong (e.g. in the Legal System course). We hope that this course on constitutional law will provide for students the opportunity to study the subject more systematically and intensively. However, as it is only a one-semester course, it can do no more than opening the door for students, so that students who are interested in a broader and deeper understanding of the subject may acquire a solid foundation for their future studies in this interesting, exciting and challenging domain of public law.

LLAW3010 Business associations (6 credits)

This course introduces students to the law of business associations. The two main forms of business association to be covered in the course are partnerships and companies, with a predominant focus on the latter. Students will acquire an understanding of the basic issues in company law, including company formation, corporate personality, the relationship between the company and outsiders, directors’ duties, member’s right in a company, and the dissolution of a company. The focus will be on Hong Kong law.

The course adopts the usual lecture-tutorial format. The tutorials are highly interactive and students are expected to come prepared and to participate actively in tutorial discussions.
Pre-requisite: Have taken and passed Commercial Law

Assessment: 15% mid-term examination 85% final examination

LLAW1013  Legal research and writing I (6 credits)

Legal Research and Writing I is a foundational skills course offered in the first semester of the first year. It is a practice-focused skills course and emphasises maximum participation. The lectures and tutorials work in tandem to help students develop skills such as research, analysis, legal reasoning, and persuasive argument. The students will be introduced to judgements, ordinances, and specific legal genres such as case note and legal memorandum.

The course comprises the following three inter-related elements:

a. Research: how to identify and locate appropriate cases and legislation, as well as secondary sources.
b. Legal analysis: the students will learn to closely read and analyse common law judgement; to use and interpret legislation; and to identify legal issues from fact-patterns.
c. Legal writing: the students will learn to write succinctly and effectively, and construct logical and persuasive arguments.

Assessment: 60% final take home exam, 30% written assignment, 10% class participation

LLAW2017  Legal research and writing II (6 credits)

Legal Research and Writing II (LRW2) is usually taken by students in the second semester of their second year of the LLB programme. It follows on the LRW1 course, the foundational course offered in the first semester of the first year. While the LRW1 course introduces students to basic legal research and writing skills, LRW2 builds on those skills and concentrates on the development of more lawyerly skills including drafting and oral presentation skills.

LRW2 is a skills-training course. It emphasises maximum participation. The lectures and tutorials work in tandem to help students develop skills such as oral presentation, legal drafting, conducting research, problem solving, legal reasoning and persuasive arguments.

The course comprises two inter-related elements:

a. Drafting – focusing on drafting simple legal documents and skeleton arguments that allow students to develop critical analysis, legal knowledge and legal reasoning.
b. Oral presentation – focusing on oral presentation of cases, and an ability to engage in verbal legal argument and discourse. This also includes preparing PowerPoint slides and other supporting visual materials.

Pre-requisite: Have taken and passed Legal research and writing I

Assessment: 60% take home assignment, 30% oral presentation, 10% class participation and assignments in tutorials

LLAW2009  Introduction to Chinese law (6 credits)

A general overview of the legal system and the basic principles of law in force in Mainland China today.
Topics to be covered include the historical background to the contemporary Chinese legal system; constitutional law; sources of law; the law-making institutions and processes; the courts, procuratorates and legal profession; basic principles of civil and criminal procedure and administrative litigation; basic principles of civil, commercial, administrative and criminal law; and the impact of globalization on Chinese legal developments.

Assessment: 100% in-hall final examination

CLAW9001  Practical Chinese for law students (6 credits)

The course is designed to enhance the students’ proficiency in the use of the Chinese language in the legal profession. It helps to sharpen the students’ skills in writing formal letters, notices, announcements, proposals and reports. As a variety of the Chinese language, legal Chinese has its own distinctive characteristics, which are explored in this course. A special topic in this course is “Characteristics of Chinese Legal Language”. The students are trained to express their ideas and views lucidly in Chinese in a legal context. Drilling practices are provided to familiarise them with the simplified forms of frequently used legal terms.

Assessment: 50% written assignments, 50% written examination

LLAW3242  Dissertation (12 credits)

This course is about legal scholarship. Students will acquire the skills of effective legal writing and research, including: the selection of research topics and questions; planning and structuring research, developing an original thesis/argument, and engaging critically with legal scholarship. To these ends, students will produce a research dissertation, under the supervision of a faculty member and informed by their participation in a series of seminar sessions. Learning activities during the seminars will consist of discussing the goals and challenges of legal research and scholarship, presenting one’s own research topic/idea, and constructive engagement with others about their research. The expected word count of the dissertation is between 10,000 to 12,000 words.

This course is only open to students on the UCL-HKU Dual Degree Programme, for whom this course is compulsory.

Assessment: 90% dissertation, 10% class participation

LLAW 3187  Mooting and dispute resolution (capstone) (6 credits)

Mooting and Dispute Resolution is a 6 credit compulsory course. The course takes place in both Semester 1 and Semester 2. Course credits are awarded at the completion of the course in Semester 2.

The course is designed to introduce you to the following:

1. Appellate Advocacy

   - You will participate in a moot.
   - You will be in teams of two, acting as Counsel for one of the parties in an appeal from a (fictional) trial decision. You will be required to prepare and submit to the court a skeleton argument of the legal arguments you intend to advance along with a list of authorities. You will also be required to argue the case before the court.

- This course builds upon the writing and oral presentation skills you have developed in Legal Research and Writing II.

2. Dispute Resolution Methods (such as litigation, arbitration and mediation).

Pre-requisite: Have taken and passed Legal research and writing II

Assessment:
This is a pass/fail course.

In order to pass the course, students must complete all of the following three elements:

(i) Attend one mooting coaching session;
(ii) Attend at least 80% of the lectures; and
(iii) Participate in one mandatory moot in the competition, including:
   • prepare and submit a skeleton argument at the mooting competition to a satisfactory level; and
   • prepare and present an oral argument at the mooting competition to a satisfactory level.
   Please note that for the mandatory moot, both your oral presentation and skeleton argument must be of satisfactory standard.

In order to select the semi-finalists and the finalists of the mooting competition, and to provide feedback to students on their performance, the moot (written and oral presentations) will be graded. However, the grades will have no impact on the students’ GPA.

LLAW3243   HKU legal internship (12 credits)

This HKU Legal Internship course is a compulsory course for students registered in the UCL-HKU Dual Degree Programme, and is only open to those students.

This course will consist of training sessions and legal clinic work (including attending interview, and advice sessions and preparing case summary, legal research memos and summary of advice). Students will be required to conduct interviews with real clients and handle real cases under the supervision of the Director/supervising staff of the clinical legal education or any similar experimental learning programme of the Faculty and voluntary duty lawyers in the private sector, or responsible Legal Officer and/or staff in public sector, NGOs and relevant partner organisations in the community and elsewhere, if any. Students will be provided with training on lawyering skills such as interviewing, negotiation, communication, facts investigation, legal research and analysis. They will be required to apply legal theories and principles to practical settings, practise legal writing and drafting, and reflect on professional ethics and responsibilities. Depending on availability, students may be placed in different streams of the clinical legal education or any similar experimental learning programme.

Students may also have the opportunities to develop professional judgement through encounters with legal and ethical dilemmas, and to recognize challenges, to creatively identify options, and to diligently and ethically provide assistance to clients.

Students will be assessed on a pass / fail basis by reference to the contents of the portfolio/ written work, and by the feedback of the Director/supervising staff of the clinical legal education programme and the supervising lawyers/ responsible legal officer on their professional attitudes and competence when they handle clients’ cases. Students are also required to submit to the Programme Director or his/her delegate an essay of 3,000 words based on the experience at the legal internship.

Assessment: 100% continuous assessment and an essay

For disciplinary electives, please refer to the LLB syllabuses for course description.
