

From law degree to PCLL at HKU

7 September 2012

I thank the University and the Alumni Association for organizing this information session, which I found to be very useful. The PCLL is unlike any program that I have taken in my post-secondary studies – the workload is more intense and the pace of teaching is very fast. From the first few weeks of the PCLL, I had already felt the intensity of the programme. The hectic nature of the PCLL was further compounded by the need to select electives for next semester. I was, thus, in need of practical advice on how to manage the workload and on how to choose the proper electives. Sunny and Maggie were able to give me valuable insight into the programme from the perspective of a student like myself and suggest ways to cope with the programme. Although the programme remains demanding, the information session was able to aid me in settling into the programme with the benefit of the learned advice from my seniors. Therefore, I am very grateful for the organization of such sharing sessions, and hope that the faculty will provide more career-related information sessions in the future.
