Here, you will find an environment that values critical thinking, integrity, and the courage to question and innovate.

From a teaching department of three teachers and 40 students in 1969 to a Faculty today with about 2,700 students and over 80 full time academic staff from about 17 jurisdictions, the Faculty of Law has been the training ground of many distinguished legal minds. Generations of lawyers who graduated from the Faculty now form the backbone of the legal profession, and protect the Rule of Law in Hong Kong, which is crucial to the success of the territory.

Academic Entry Requirements

Generally, students should demonstrate good academic performance with a grade point average of 3.33 (which converts to the letter grade of B+) on a 4.3 scale. Applications with a slightly lower GPA will be considered if justifications are provided. Given that different universities adopt different grading systems, the Director of Incoming Exchange Programme retains overriding discretion in mapping between different grading systems. In addition, students should have completed at least one year of law studies prior to their exchange study depending on agreement between universities. For students enrolled in a double degree programme of Law, Law GPA will be taken into account.

English Language Requirements

The teaching medium for majority of the courses offered by our Faculty is English unless specified. Following the University's entry requirement for incoming exchange students, both native and non-native English speakers are required to submit a valid and acceptable English Proficiency Proof. Students should achieve minimum an overall band of 7.0 with no subtest lower than 6.5 in IELTS Academic Module or 97 in the TOEFL internet-based test.

Selection of Courses

Exchange students should select courses according to the Faculty's regulations, procedures and rules. The normal course load for HKU LLB students is 30 credits (i.e. equivalent to 5 LLB courses) in each semester; or 60 credits (i.e. equivalent to 10 LLB courses) for one academic year. With the prior approval from their home university, exchange students should inform the faculty office by email (laffairs@hku.hk) if they wish to opt for one of the following variations of workload for each semester:

- i. a reduced workload of 24-29 credits; or
- ii. a maximum load of 34-36 credits.

For students who wish to enrol non-law courses offered by other faculties, approval must be sought from the respective units, and the final approval rests with the offering department. Please also note that students are permitted to enroll 12 credits (i.e. equivalent to 2 HKU courses) of non-law subjects in each semester.

Course availability varies from year to year subject to the availability of teaching resources and student enrolment. Please refer to the website of Faculty of Law <https://course.law.hku.hk/law-electives/> for the list of elective courses offer in 2025-26 for reference. Please note that courses listed under "Core courses", "PCLL Pre-requisites" of undergraduate courses and mandatory courses for specialized LLM programmes are not open to exchange students. Some taught postgraduate courses with course code LLAW6XXX are open to designated JD students from North America and Australia only.

A detailed guideline for course selection as well as the final course list offered for exchange students will be sent by email in August (for exchange students in the 1st semester and full-year) and December (for exchange students in the 2nd semester).
